

THE SKY

As I go up and up in the air,

Almost touching the sky.

As I swing back and forth,

As if I am riding a roller coaster.

A bird flew across the sky,

And it flew right into my mind.

As the sky began to rain,

A strike of lightning shock the sky.

Ah! Oh my!

As an earthquake was about to take place.

After the rain stopped.

And what a glorious site.

As the down came in with the present of a rainbow.
